Welcome

Welcome to the wonderful and festive time of year. For the 8 nights of Chanukah, I present to you 8+ original and fun activities; that's one for every night, and then some.

I hope you enjoy these activities, and please send me pictures of your completed pages! I love to share them on social media.

I didn't want to make this too easy, so I decided not to include the answers here. If you get stuck on any of the activities and need solutions, send me a message on thatjewishmoment.com. :)

My name is Sari Kopitnikoff, and I am an educator, illustrator, and author. I especially love figuring out how to use fresh ideas to bring fun and meaning to Jewish life.

Menorah Match

Can you figure out which menorah below is extra?
Look for clues to help you match each person with their menorah, and then see which one is left for you to use.

Step by Step

My new Chanukah printable game, A Spin on Dreidel, features a dizzy dreidel. Follow along and learn how I draw it, one step at a time. You can draw yours in the bottom right square.

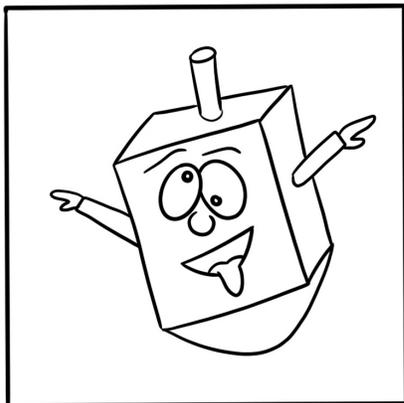

1. Start with the eyes, nose, and mouth. For the dizzy effect, make the pupils facing different directions and let its tongue hang out.

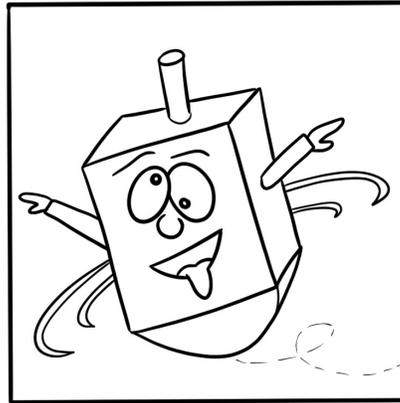

2. Make a square around the face and add eyebrows.

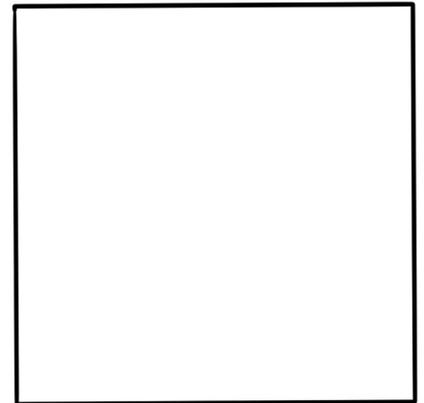

3. It's time to make your dreidel 3D. Add the side of the dreidel and two arms and hands, which should come from the middle.

4. Now draw the handle, the rest of the top, and the rounded bottom.

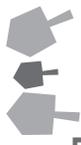

5. Finally, make some spin marks and a dizzy track on the floor.

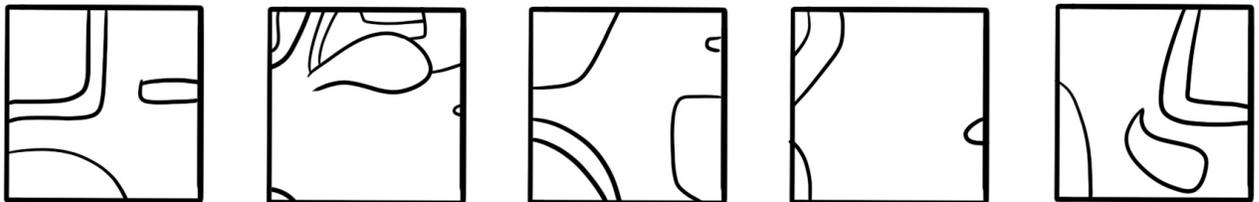

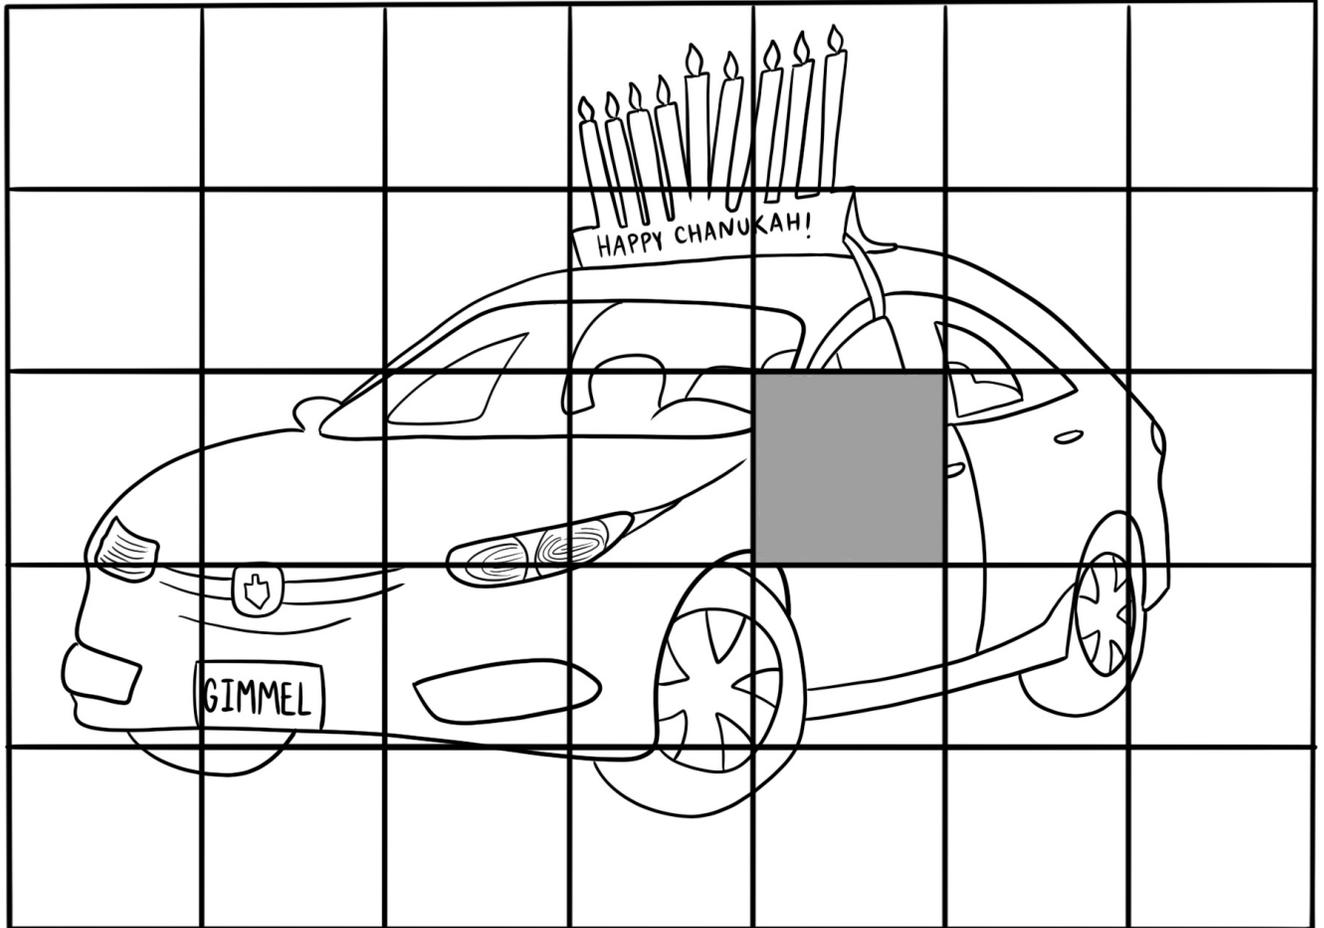

Create your dreidel here!

The Missing Piece

I love seeing menorah cars on Chanukah! This one, though, is missing a piece of the picture. From the 5 choices on the bottom, can you figure out which one belongs in the area that's shaded grey?

Find the Differences

Look carefully. Can you spot all 10?

Celebrating Miracles

On Chanukah, we celebrate the miracles in life: both big and small. What are some miracles in your life? Write or draw them in the flames below.

A Messy Message

Can you understand oil spills? Use the decoder below to answer the question to this riddle:

What did one bottle of oil say to the other on Chanukah?

Hidden Candles

My new virtual Chanukah game, The Chanu-Candle Hunt, is all about finding a menorah's 8 missing candles by solving fun and challenging puzzles with the help of some wacky characters. Here's your chance to test your finding skills! Look carefully: all of the candles are camouflaged with their surroundings...

Face It!

These 4 siblings are playing Dreidel together. Based on what they each spun during one round, imagine and draw what their facial expressions may be.

In case you need to review, here are the the basic rules of Dreidel: Everyone starts with an equal number of coins and takes turns spinning the dreidel. Each player puts a coin in the center of the play area (the "pot") at the beginning of each round. On your turn: If your dreidel lands on a nun, you get nothing. If you spin a gimmel, you get everything in the pot. Get a hey, and you get half of the pot. When you get a shin, you give a coin to the pot.

Color by Letter

Bring this drawing to life and color by following this guide:

Aleph = blue, Bet = yellow, Gimmel = light grey, Dalet = dark grey,
Hei = Purple, Vuv = Light brown, Zayin = Red, Chet = dark brown, Tet = black

Share the Light

On Chanukah, we share the light of our menorah, and our Judaism, with the world. What are your favorite parts about being Jewish? Draw or write your answers in the stars below.

Check out these products, new for Chanukah, from That Jewish Moment!

Hi, I'm Sari! Whether this is your first That Jewish Moment packet, or you've been using these for the last few months, I'm glad you're here. I've been hard at work creating fun Jewish products, games, and programs. Take a look below. And happy Chanukah!

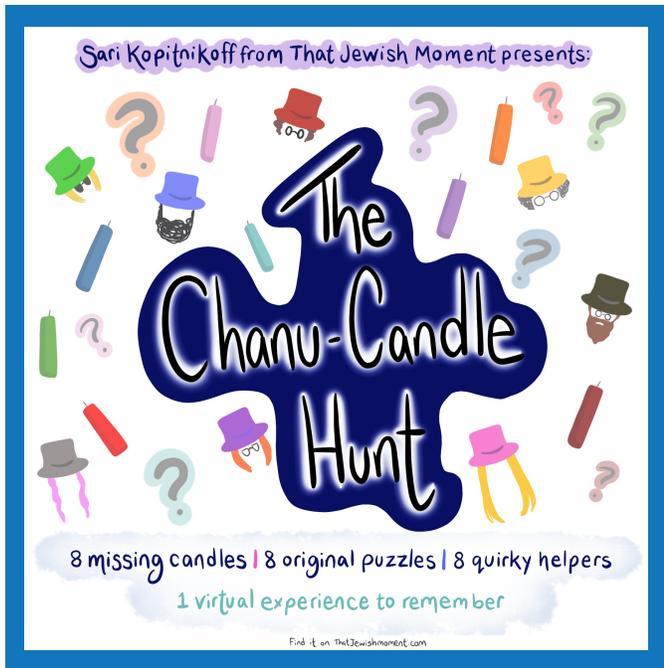

A fun, printable Chanukah game for friends and family:

Be the first team to fill your menorah! With some silly acting, rhyming, and prop-grabbing, guess your team's cards correctly. Use the gelt when you have to.

Oh. And don't spin a nun.

A That Jewish Moment original game.

A special Chanukah virtual challenge:

A menorah is missing all 8 of its candles: that's everything but the shamash! Solve puzzles, meet quirky hint-giving characters, and discover a hidden message as you search for the candles. This is a fun and challenging activity for adults and families. It's also great for schools, synagogues, and organizations.

An original That Jewish Moment experience.
