"Letting the Tears Come: Sitting with God in our Grief"

This Resource is for Those Educators Seeking Chizzuk

Group Discussion Questions:

- Among your learners, what emotions have spoken the loudest this year since October 7 grief? Anger? Pride? Hurt?
- Where have you given yourself room to grieve this year?
- What do you think about the idea of God grieving alongside us this year since October 7? Does that help you at all? Why or why not?

Texts on Grief and Guiding Questions to Use with Your Learners:

תלמוד בבלי מסכת ברכות לב:

וְאָמַר רַבִּי אֶלְעָזָר: מִיּוֹם שֶׁחָרַב בֵּית הַמִּקְדָּשׁ נִנְעֲלוּ שַׁעֲרֵי תְּפִלָּה, שֶׁנֶּאֱמַר: ״גַּם כִּי אֶזְעַק וַאֲשַׁוֵּע שְׂתַם תְּפִלָּתִי״. וְאַף עַל פִּי שֶׁשַּׁעֲרֵי תְפִיּלָּה נִנְעֲלוּ, שַׁעֲרֵי דִמְעָה לֹא נִנְעֲלוּ, שֶׁנֶּאֱמַר: ״שִׁמְעָה תְפִּלָּתִי ה׳ וְשַׁוְעָתִי הַאֲזִינָה אֶל דִּמעַתִי אַל תִּחַרִשׁ״.

Babylonian Talmud Brachot 32b

Rabbi Elazar said: Since the day the Temple was destroyed the gates of prayer were locked and prayer is not accepted as it once was, as it is said: "Though I plead and call out, God shuts out my prayer" (Lamentations 3:8).

Yet, despite the fact that the gates of prayer were locked with the destruction of the Temple, the gates of tears were not locked, as it is stated: "Hear my prayer, Lord, and give ear to my pleading, keep not silence at my tears" (Psalms 39:13).

In your own understanding, what is the difference between "gates of prayer" and "gates of tears"? What does it mean to you that the "gates of tears" are never locked?

תלמוד בבלי מסכת כתובות דף קד.

, ההוא יומא דנח נפשיה דרבי, גזרו רבנן תעניתא ובעו רחמי.

ואמרי: כל מאן דאמר נח נפשיה דר' ידקר בחרב. סליקא אמתיה דרבי לאיגרא, אמרה: עליוני ,מבקשין את רבי והתחתונים מבקשין את רבי יהי רצון שיכופו תחתונים את העליונים.

כיון חזאי כמה זימני דעייל לבית הכסא, וחלץ תפילין ומנח להו וקמצטער, אמרה: יהי רצון שיכופו עליונים את התחתונים. ולא הוו שתקי רבנן מלמיבעי רחמי, שקלה כוזא שדייא מאיגרא [לארעא],

אישתיקו מרחמי ונח נפשיה דרבי.

אמרו ליה רבנן לבר קפרא: זיל עיין אזל אשכחיה דנח נפשיה.

קרעיה ללבושיה ואהדריה לקרעיה לאחוריה. פתח ואמר אראלים ומצוקים אחזו בארון הקדש, נצחו אראלים את המצוקים ונשבה ארון הקדש. אמרו ליה: נח נפשיה? אמר להו: אתון קאמריתו.

Babylonian Talmud Ketubot 104a

On the day when Rabi (Judah the Prince the compiler of the Mishna) died, the Rabbis decreed a public fast and offered prayers for heavenly mercy (that he would live).

They announced: "Anyone who says that Rabi is dead will be stabbed with a sword."

Rabi's handmaid ascended the roof and prayed: 'The ones above (the angels) request Rabi, and the ones below (the Rabbis) request Rabi; may it be Your will that the ones below may overpower the ones above."

However, when she saw how often he needed to go to the bathroom, painfully taking off his tefillin (phylacteries) and putting them on again, she prayed: 'May it be Your will that the ones above may overpower the ones below'.

As the Rabbis incessantly continued their prayers for mercy she picked up a jar and threw it down from the roof to the ground.

They stopped praying and the soul of Rabi departed. 'Go', said the Rabbis to Bar Kappara, 'and investigate'. He went and finding that Rabi was dead, he tore his cloak and turned the tear backwards (this is an external sign of mourning).

He said: 'The angels and the mortals have taken hold of the holy ark (referring to Rabi). The angels overpowered the mortals and the holy ark has been captured'.

'Has he', they asked him, 'gone to his eternal rest? ' He replied, 'You said it; I did not say it'.

Eikhah Rabbah 1:1

Rav Naḥman said that Shmuel said in the name of Rabbi Yehoshua ben Levi: The Holy Blessed One summoned the ministering angels and said to them: 'A flesh and blood king, when a relative of his dies and he mourns, what does he typically do?' They said to God: 'He hangs sackcloth on his entrance.' God said to them: 'I, too, will do so.' That is what is written: "I clothe the heavens in blackness and I place sackcloth as their garment" (Isaiah 50:3). 'A flesh and blood king, what [else] does he typically do?' They said to God: 'He extinguishes the lamps.' God said to them: 'That is what I will do,' as it is stated: "The sun and the moon darkened and the stars withdrew their shining" (Joel 4:15). 'A flesh and blood king, what does he typically do?' 'He overturns the beds.' That is what I will do,' as it is stated: "Until thrones were set in place and the Ancient One sat" (Daniel 7:9), [implying,] as it were, that they had been overturned.

'A flesh and blood king, what does he typically do?' 'He walks barefoot.' That is what I will do,' as it is stated: "God's path is in tempest and in storm, and clouds are the dust of God's feet" (Nahum 1:3). 'A flesh and blood king, what does he typically do?' 'He rends his purple garments.' That is what I will do,' as it is stated: "God accomplished what God devised; God implemented [bitza] God's statement [emrato]" (Lamentations 2:17). Rabbi Yaakov of Kefar Hanan explained it: What is bitza emrato? It is that God rent God's purple garments.

'A flesh and blood king, what does he typically do?'
'He sits in silence.' That is what I will do,' as it is stated:
"Let him sit alone and be silent" (Lamentations 3:28).
'A flesh and blood king, what does he typically do?'
'He sits and weeps.' That is what I will do,' as it is stated: "The Lord, God of hosts, called on that day for weeping and for lamentation and for baldness" (Isaiah 22:12).

How do you feel about the idea that God learns how to mourn from human leaders? Is there anything missing from the list of mourning practices God implements - anything you would want God to add?

Babylonian Talmud Brachot 3a

It was taught Rabbi Yosei said: I was once walking along the road when I entered the ruins of an old, abandoned building among the ruins of Jerusalem in order to pray.

I noticed that Elijah, of blessed memory, came and guarded the entrance for me and waited at the entrance until I finished my prayer. When I finished praying, Elijah said to me: Greetings to you, my Rabbi. I answered him: Greetings to you, my Rabbi, my teacher. And Elijah said to me: My son, why did you enter this ruin? I said to him: In order to pray. And Elijah said to me: You should have prayed on the road. And I said to him: I was unable to pray along the road, because I was afraid that I might be interrupted by travelers. Elijah said to me: You should have recited the abbreviated prayer instituted for just such circumstances. Rabbi Yosei concluded: At that time, from that brief exchange. I learned from him, three things: I learned that one may not enter a ruin; and I learned that one need not enter a building to pray, but he may pray along the road; and I learned that one who prays along the road recites an abbreviated prayer. And after this introduction, Elijah said to me: What voice did you hear in that ruin? I responded: I heard a Divine voice, cooing like a dove and saying: Woe that I destroyed My house, burned My Temple, and exiled my children among the nations. And Elijah said to me: By your life and by your head, not only did that voice cry out in that moment, but it cries out three times each and every day. Moreover, when Israel enters synagogues and study halls and answers, May God's great name be blessed, the Holy Blessed One, shakes their head and says: Happy is the king who is thus praised in his house. How great is the pain of the parent who exiled their children, and woe to the children who were exiled from their parent's table.

How might this text help us feel closer to God? How might it cause us to feel further away from God?

Overarching Question:

Has it been important to you to feel that God is grieving alongside us this year since October 7? Why or why not?

1

Bring together a small group of clergy or educators, and learn together with them these modern midrashim written about October 7 by survivors of October 7.
Consider: what emotions speak loudest in each of these texts? Which resonate the most with you?

Consider the well-known "Ring Theory of Grief" and how that has impacted your own self-care this past year. Together with clergy/educator friends, discuss: where are we in these concentric circles of grief? How might we fill our own cup in response to our grief, while tending to others as well?

Closing Intention

There is a sacredness in tears. They are not the mark of weakness, but of power. They speak more eloquently than ten thousand tongues. They are the messengers of overwhelming grief, of deep contrition, and of unspeakable love.

Washington Irving
