

*Did you know
that today is the Sigd holiday?*

50 days after Yom Kippur, we celebrate the Sigd, an ancient Jewish holiday, that has been observed for centuries by the Jewish-Ethiopian community.

The day is marking the renewal of the covenant between the Jewish people, God and the yearning to get to Jerusalem. With the Jewish-Ethiopian Aliyah to Israel, the holiday was added with another meaning Thanksgiving!

For realizing the dream and the reunion with Jerusalem.

Fun Facts

- In 2008 the Sigd officially became a national holiday In Israel
- The Jewish-Ethiopian community is also known by the name “Beit-Israel”
- The Jewish-Ethiopian community in Israel is 155,300 people
- The word Sigd is derived from the Hebrew word “Sgida”, prostration.

Melkam Ba'al!
(Bless the day)

לשנה הבאה בירושלים הבנויה

Next year in Jerusalem

berwe
rich I
me year
if big-C
g-placc
or all i
ating,
night
atch ti
ay.
blackth
something
me of yee